

FRUIT

Mangosteen

The queen of tropical fruit: purple rind, melting and fragrant white flesh.

The mangosteen is a small fruit with thick dark purple rind, which hides 4 to 6 segments of white flesh, translucent and very tender. Its flavour, both sweet and tangy, recalls lychee and peach, with a delicate fragrance. It is opened by pressing on the skin and eaten fresh. A speciality fruit, appreciated for desserts and high-end fruit plates.
